THE WAR ON COTTON SEED.

[New York Times] MEMPHIS, Sept. 13.—The compound lard bill, now pending before the United States Senate, will practically wipe the cotton seed and cotton seed oil industry of the South out of existence. At the present time the bill has wrought almost irreparable injury, and if it becomes a law the worst results may be looked for. The Conger bill places the manufacture and sale of compound lard under the espionage of the Revenue Department, and imposes a tax on the product. Cotton seed oil enters largely into the manufacture of compound lard, and the tax imposed will in reality be a tax of five cents on every gallon of oil. This puts compound lard under a ban of ruin, and it goes to the public as a branded article, subject to all that that implies. This action has virtually deprived the cotton seed oil men of the lard made, and has cut off three-fourths (3/4) of the consumption of oil. They are accordingly driven to the export and soap markets to dispose of their product, and on these markets the oil is only taken in competition with other greases. In the Memphis Merchants' Exchange to day cotton seed was quoted at from $4 to $7 per ton. Before the bill passed the House, prices ranged from $4 to $6 per ton higher. On the present basis the planters in the Memphis cotton district alone will receive $1,000,000 less for this year's product than they did for that of last year, with the prospect of a much heavier loss if the lard bill becomes a law. To-day there is practically no market for cotton seed oil.

SIMON PURE DEMOCRATIC.

[Goldboro Headlight] The DAILY STATE CHRONICLE is six months old. It is a Simon pure Democratic paper, and is bold and fearless in its utterances. It is a paper of which every North Carolinian has reason to be proud.

Col. J. S. Cunningham celebrated his 29th birthday at his elegant country home last Friday. He has attained distinguished prominence in business and political circles for so young a man. We wish him long life and as brilliant success as his past career would indicate is in store for him.—Hilton Advertiser.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To the Democratic Executive Committee of the Fourth District. There will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of the Fourth Congressional District at the Yarbrough House in this city on Thursday, the 25th inst., at 9:30 a. m. Hon. B. H. Bunn will be present and desires to meet every member of the committee. N. B. BROUGHTON, Chairman.

"IT WAS A LITTLE SHAVE."

These were the words of a large writer when he came into the business of WISDOM would adopt measures that would reduce the New York financial market.

For a fortnight or more the financial world has felt a shock that has been continuous and embarrassing. Money has been very tight and the prevailing rate very high. On Saturday SECRETARY WINDOM was summoned to New York to confer with the financial magnates and get their views as to how the needed help could be given. The New York Herald says that he appeared as the Moses to lead the children of Mammon out of bondage. The condition of things has been such that the like has not been known for a very long time. After the conference SECRETARY WINDOM advised that he would buy four per cent bonds to the value of $15,000,000. This action, it was said, would not be considered to relieve the situation. Mr. Windom has announced that the Treasury Department would propose a year's interest on six per cent bonds. This will amount to $4,000,000. In addition to this, will be continued the payment of a year's advance upon the 1897 four per cent bond, and the regular redemption of the four and one-half per cent bonds. All together these measures will put something over $20,000,000 at the disposal of the financial world.

But alone, these measures would not prevent the constant demand which has been the cause of the stringency. It has been chiefly caused by the enormous importations of goods at this time as to escape the increased duties provided for in the McKinley tariff bill. If the McKinley bill should go into effect, as provided for on the 1st of November, the natural demand for money would continue and the Treasury Department would not be able to relieve it. And so, SECRETARY WINDOM telegraphed to the Conference Committee on the Tariff, and recommended that the time for the operation of the tariff bill be postponed from November 1st to February 1st. This recommendation will in all probability be adopted.

The McKinley Tariff bill has thus wrought evil, and come near bringing ruin, even before it had gone into operation. But for prompt action, the financial world might have been thrown into a panic. It was a close shave, as it was, and is but one more of many evidences that our financial system is wholly bad. It is a system that is a disgrace to our country—a system devised and kept up by Republican legislators in the interest of certain classes. But for aid from SECRETARY WINDOM'S prompt action, great loss and trouble would have been upon us. One of the largest importers in New York said to the New York Herald:

"It seems to me that the administration has by means of its tariff policy got the business community into this tangle, and now it simply does as any one else does when a mistake has been made—it is trying to make the best of it, and regards the trouble in the money market as a godsend to mop up the tangle and try which would have been certainly made from the commercial community."

The tariff law enacted by this Congress is the most impudent, the most unjust, and the most infamous legislation ever placed upon the statute books of this country. If tariff has no effect upon the price of goods, as Republicans claim, why do the importers make such enormous purchases on the eve of an increase in the duties? Why the evils and the burdens imposed by the McKinley bill have already stricken the country, but they are not to be compared with the injuries that they will impose upon the pockets of all consumers in the months and years that are to come.

AN EXCELLENT CHANCE.

For a Bright Boy to Get an Education and Position in Life.

The Chronicle is requested by Hon. B. H. Bunn, M. C. from the Fourth District to announce that a competitive examination for the readership at West Point will take place in Raleigh Friday, September 26th. All applicants are requested to file their names with Prof. Hugh Morson, chairman of the board of examiners, Raleigh, N. C.

The qualifications prescribed are as follows: "The age for the admission of cadets to the Academy is between seventeen and twenty-two years. Candidates must be unmarried, at least five feet in height, free from any infectious or immoral disorder and, generally, from any deformity, disease, or infirmity which may render them unfit for military service. They must be well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, in arithmetic, and have a knowledge of the elements of English grammar, of descriptive geography (particularly of our own country), and of the history of the United States."

All papers in the Fourth Congressional District are requested to publish the above announcement, so that every boy in the district who desires may have an opportunity of standing for the nomination.

R THERE.

A New and Ingenious Device for Keeping Oysters in the Shell Good.

There is a new and ingenious device for keeping oysters good in the shell for several weeks after they have been taken from the water. Heretofore this has been done unsatisfactorily by boring holes through the edges of the shells and locking in the oysters with bits of twisted wire. By the new scheme the edges of the shells are dipped into plaster of Paris mixed with certain chemicals and make it harden quickly. In a few minutes the oyster is hermetically sealed, and so strong is the cement that not even the most muscular mollusk can manage to get a breath of fresh air after having been subjected to this process.

IT PROBABLY IS HONORABLE.

Some of the State Republican Convention.

Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE. CAROLINA, N. C., Sept. 13.—George Clark, Gov. and really in a state when he declared his belief that O. H. Dockery was dead Governor two years ago. If so be is the first man I have heard to express himself and I am sure that O. H. Dockery never thought that he had been.

Dispositions must be made for the impetus of a new recruit, and while I have no doubt that Mr. Cook is just as clever a gentleman now as he was ten years ago, when hunting game on Democratic preserves, yet the official line that has been set forth in regard to the new and gifted center of things.

A candidate of quality and of promise is a man who has a political future, and who is not only a man of high ability, but who is also a man of high character. It is a man who will not only be a leader, but who will also be a follower. It is a man who will not only be a leader, but who will also be a follower. It is a man who will not only be a leader, but who will also be a follower.

The practice of buying Democratic politicians who will jump or have already jumped over the fence was unappreciated by the great and magnanimous Grant who unconsciously believed that by such means he would stem the wave of Democracy in the South and in consequence of such belief (in good faith, too) he carried an Arkansas in Georgia and placed him within the inner circle of power at Washington. Unfortunately for the Republican party, the precedent thus made as an experiment has been followed without questioning its policy or expediency by succeeding administrations in matters both large and small.

"Way back" Republicans have been sedulously striving only to be outwitted and brought out again at whipping time in hope that a new regime might bring about a change. A change does follow but it is a change to the left.

The men who want to "get there" are alert and every resource of the imagination is brought to bear to bring about the desired result. "Way back" Republicans are also alert and every resource of the imagination is brought to bear to bring about the desired result. "Way back" Republicans are also alert and every resource of the imagination is brought to bear to bring about the desired result.

In great affairs it is this way and the reflection is seen in lesser matters. State and county politics. "Way back" Republicans are also alert and every resource of the imagination is brought to bear to bring about the desired result.

I could follow this matter to the end but it would be nauseating. Not a single brazen and respectable (if you please) Southern Democrat who has been got in exchange for a lucrative office, or on the promise of such, has been able to deliver to the Republican party, anything besides himself. He has not only failed to do so, but he has also failed to do so, but he has also failed to do so.

STUPIDITY AND MENDACITY.

The Hendersonville Times Introduced to the Truth for the First Time.

The unalterable stupidity of some country editors is only equalled by their brazen mendacity.—A good instance of this is shown in the columns of a sheet printed at Hendersonville, which in one short editorial calls the Commissioner of Agriculture, Col. Robinson, a liar three times, mainly because Col. Robinson, when in the discharge of his official duties, and holding an official meeting in accordance with the law, refused to allow Mr. Reart, the Republican candidate for Congress, to make a political speech in the meeting, which had no connection with political matters of either party, but to allow him to speak his piece while Col. R. and nine-tenths of the people present had adjourned for dinner.—This vacillating editor says that the Farmers' Institute, held "for one day," was a failure and only elicited ridicule, while the fact was the only failure was Mr. Ewart's efforts to turn Col. Robinson's official meeting into a political mass meeting, and the only ridicule was that of an old farmer who staid in at noon and poked fun at Mr. Ewart. Instead of one day's Institute, a much

GOOD REASONS.

For Patronizing the Mosley House.

I am pleasantly located, near all that is of interest in the city, and on the main street, where all the large dry goods houses of W. H. & S. Tucker & Co. I find everything neat and clean at the Mosley House, and feel as if at home, for they make me so. I find the Dining Hall for Ladies and Gentlemen well cared for and as pleasant as any I have ever seen. I can enjoy one of the good meals you can always get at the Mosley House for 50 cents, should appreciate and patronize it. The Mosley House. (July 17-18) larger crowd of the Main Tavern forced out the next day. In a different way, and the meeting was an affair of some importance. Mr. E had taken his horse and riding away. Col. Robinson did not even then, in his office, return to Raleigh, but went on with his colleagues, and held another meeting in the morning in Cherokee, and did not finally leave Mr. Ewart's district, after nearly a month's journeying in it, until a week after the convention which nominated Mr. Crawford.

The "agricultural theorists" who asserted Col. Robinson can well afford to laugh at the opinion of an editor who evidently knows as little about farming as he does of tilling the truth.
